

Interactive Projects in Education: Ingeborg Fülepp

The Mystery of the Rosebud

Concept and implementation: Ingeborg Fülepp, Harvard University, Graduate School of Education, Cambridge 1988
An interactive video disc program for teaching and learning cinematic techniques on the example of the film Citizen Kane. The program is menu driven with multiple choice options. It is programmed with Handy authoring language and uses only a touch screen input as a navigation tool. The program is designed to be used individually, in groups or by a teacher in the classroom.